Sunday School Work In Irma

Last Sunday was a very interesting time for those interested in Sunday school work in the Irma district. An afternoon session was called to order at 3 o'clock and opened with singing and prayer. An address was then given by Rev. E.R. MacLean in which he outlined the program of the Sunday school. There has been a great deal of study given to child habits and feelings and all this has been turned to account in formulating the churches plan of action. Mr. MacLean gave a short talk to the boys and girls and brought home in a very forceful manner the values of thoughtfulness for parents.

The evening session was opened at 8 o'clock with singing and prayer and then Mr. MacLean spoke of the Sunday school's part in the forward movement. The address illustrated with charts was an inspiration to those who heard it. It is to be hoped that the community will realize the opportunity the Sunday school offers and rally round those who today are doing very acceptable work in this way. Mr. MacLean represents the Alberta S.S. Federation in his visit to us. He is the Field Secretary for young peoples work in the Presbyterian church and it was good to find out how closely the churches are getting together. Co-operation is sure the word to describe the present age but we hope the day will come when church union will be an accomplished fact.

H. Ziegler had an auction sale of his household goods at Kinsella on Saturday, November 21st. Everything sold well. Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler is leaving for Edmonton where they will reside in the future.

H. J. Overbo is taking charge of Albert Sallie's farm for the winter. Mr. Sallie is going up north to hunt.

A new restaurant is to be opened up at Kinsella in the near future. The party has leased Mr. Scott's building.

SIMPLE AS A.B.C. TRY IT TONIGHT FOR YOUR NERVOUSNESS

Worn out, tired in the morning, you lack the energy and ambition to work as of old. This means nerve decay—nerves that are starved for the want of good, rich blood.

It's blood nourishment that vitalizes the nerves. Your blood is thin, weak, watery. It's filled with poisons that hang on because your kidneys don't filter properly.

See here, fix up your kidneys, put new life in your liver, and you'll feel like new in a short time.

To do this, you must use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They make life look bright and pleasant because they restore harmony and vigor to the organs that need repair.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills warm the blood and fill it with nutrient that's bound to build you up, that's sure to lift your weakness, that invariably does make you robust, good health.

Think of it, youthful strength, lots of nerve force, plenty of red blood surging through your veins—isn't this reason enough for your using Dr. Hamilton's Pills? Sold in 25c boxes by all dealers.

His nights were busy with his investigations, but on Sundays, as usual, he went out to Duncan's. He had developed the habit of attending morning service; he loved the music, and it was customary for Edith to sing a morning solo. Her voice, which had enraptured him when they first met, had developed wonderfully. It filled the morning air like the clear tolling of silver bells. For his sake he gladly endured the sermons, and even in the sermon he sometimes found common ground with the preacher. They could meet on any faith that postulated the brotherhood of man. But the reverend speaker touched such a subject warily. It seemed to Dave he would gladly have gone further, but was held in restraint by a sense of the orthodoxy of his congregation. Too literal an interpretation of the brotherhood of man might carry the taint of Socialism, and the congregation represented the wealth of the city. It was safer to preach leaguely on abstractions of belief.

This morning Edith had not been in her place, and the service was flat. In the afternoon she was not at her home. Mrs. Duncan explained that Edith had gone to visit a girl friend in the country; would be away for some time. Dave felt a foolish annoyance that she should have left town. She might at least have called him up. Why should she call him up? Of course not. Still, the town was very empty. He drove with Mrs. Duncan in the afternoon, and at night took a long walk by the river. He had a vague but oppressive sense of loneliness. He had not realized what part of his life these Sunday afternoons with Edith had come to be.

A Happy Family

BY DR. R. C. BOWERS.

A happy family is one that can sit down to the table with keen appetites and good cheer. Plenty of the out-of-doors and cleanliness, inside and outside of the body, will make for health, wealth and happiness. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache to the most serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. The first thing to do in case you feel mean, logy, dull, perhaps feverish, is to flush the liver and kidneys, drink plenty of water, and take a dose of castor oil, or something better, made of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and long sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purifier. This may save you from a bit of sickness, remove the poisons from the system and give the tissues of the body a chance to build up and resist disease.

People are realizing more and more that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs I would advise any one to get Anuric (anti-uric-acid) which is to be had nowadays for fifty cents, at almost any drug store.

He had no man friends; his nature held him apart from his own sex. And yet he had a strange capacity for making friends quickly, if he tried. But he didn't try. He didn't feel the need. But he felt lost without Edith.

A few days later Conrad strolled in, with the inevitable cigarette. He smoked in silence until Dave commented, "Mighty good stuff."

"Good stuff you're giving us," he commented, when the article was finished. "Mighty good stuff."

"Your tip put me on to a good lead all right," Dave acknowledged. "And now The Times is chasing me hard. They had a story this morning that the railway is buying a right-of-way up the river."

"Remember what I told you the other day? Stories start from nowhere. It's just like putting a match to tinder. Now we're off."

Conrad smoked a few minutes in silence, but Dave could not fail to see the excitement, under his calm exterior. He had, as he said, decided to "sit in" in the biggest game ever played. The intoxication of sudden wealth had already fired his blood.

He slipped a bill to Dave. "For your services in that little transaction," he explained.

Edith held the bill in his fingers, gingerly, as though it might carry infection, as in very truth it did. He realized that he stood at a turning point—that everything the future held for him might rest on his present decision. There remained in him not a little of the fine, stern honor of the ranchmen of the open range; an honor curious, sometimes terrible, in its interpretation of right and wrong, but a stern honor none the less. And he instinctively felt that to accept this money would compromise him forever more. And yet—others did it. He had no doubt of that. Conrad would laugh at such scruples. And Conrad had more friends than he had. Everybody liked Conrad. It seemed to Dave that he, only, distrusted him. But, that, also, as Dave said to himself, lay in the point of view. He granted that he had no more right to impose his standard of morals upon Conrad than the preacher had to impose an arbitrary belief upon him. And as he turned the bill in his fingers he noticed that it was for one hundred dollars. He had thought it was ten.

"I can't take that much," he exclaimed. "It isn't fair."

"Fair enough," said Conrad, well pleased that Dave should be impressed by his generosity. "Fair enough," he repeated. "It's just ten per cent. of my profit."

"You mean you made a thousand dollars on that deal?"

Exactly that. And that will look like a peanut to what we are going to make later on."

"We?"

"You and me. We're going into partnership."

"But I've nothing to invest. I've only a very little saved up."

"Invest that hundred."

Dave looked at Conrad sharply. Was he trifling? No; his eyes were frank and serious.

"You mean it?"

"Of course. Now, I'll put you on to something, and it's the biggest thing that has been pulled off yet. There's a section of land lying right against the city limits that is owned by a fellow over in England; remittance man who fell heir to an estate and had to go home to spend it. Well, he has been paying taxes ever since, and is tired of the 'bally rancin'; besides, he is busy keeping his property in England reasonably well spent.

I am arranging through a London office to offer him ten dollars an acre, and I'll bet he jumps at it. I've arranged for the necessary credits, but there will be some expenses for cables, etc., and you can put your hundred into that. If we pull it off—and we will pull it off—we start up in business as Conrad & Edith, or Edith & Conrad, whichever sounds better. Boy, there's a fortune in it!"

"What do you figure it's worth?" said Dave, trying to speak easily. "Twenty-five dollars an acre?"

"Twenty-five dollars an acre!" Conrad shouted. "Dave, newspaper routine has killed your imagination, little as one should expect such a result, from some of the things the papers print. Twenty-five dollars an acre! Listen!

The city boundaries are to be extended—probably will be by the time this deal goes through. Then it is city property. A street railway system is to be built, and we'll see that it runs through our land. We may have to 'grease' somebody, but it's a poor engineer that saves on grease. Then we'll survey that section into twenty-five foot lots—and we'll sell them at two hundred dollars each for those nearest the city down to one hundred for those furthest out. All we need is one hundred and fifty, total nine hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Allow, say, sixty thousand for 'grease' and there is still nine hundred thousand, and that doesn't count resale commissions. Dave, it's good for a cool million. And that is just the beginning. It will give us a standing that will make anything possible."

Dave was doing rapid thinking. Suddenly he faced Conrad, and their eyes met. "Conrad," he said, "why do you put this in to me?"

"What d'ye mean?"

"You don't need my little hundred to put this over. Why do you let me in on it?"

Conrad smiled and breathed easily. There had been a moment of tension.

"Oh, that's simple," he answered. "I figure this business is going to be too big for me, and you are the partner I need. I figure we'll travel well in double harness. I'm a good mixer—I know people—and I've got ideas. And you're sound and honorable and people trust you."

"Thanks," said Dave, dryly.

"That's right," Conrad continued. "We'll be a combination hard to beat. You know the story about the brothers in the coal business?"

"No."

"Jim and Fred were coal dealers when a revival broke out in their town, and Jim got religion. Then he tried to convert Fred; tried awful hard to get Fred to at least go to the meetings. But Fred wouldn't budge. Said it wasn't practical. Jim argued and coaxed and prayed but without result. At last he put it up to Fred.

"Fred," he said, 'why won't you come to our meetings?'

"Well," the brother answered, 'it was all right for you to get religion. Sort of lends respectability to the firm. But if I get it, too, who's going to weigh the coal?'

To Increase Egg Production.
One hundred real "egg layers" on each of the 750,000 farms in Canada is the slogan adopted by a poultry club just formed in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Allowing a net profit of a dollar per hen, this would mean an annual revenue of $750,000. An elaborate campaign to further this project will be waged.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 30

JESUS TEACHES PETER TRUE GREATNESS

I. Christ's Amazing Love for His Own (vv. 1-3).

Jesus was fully conscious of what was upon him. He knew that the cross with all its anguish was just before him. He knew that his disciples would shamefully forsake him in a few hours. He knew that one of that number would be the betrayer in the hands of the devil in his betrayal. He knew that all things were in his hands; was fully conscious of his deity. Notwithstanding all this, he displayed patient and unflinching love. He did not withdraw his love from them because of their weakness and the shameful failure which he knew would soon be made manifest.

II. Christ Washing His Disciples' Feet (vv. 4-11).

This act is symbolic of his amazing love for his disciples. Jesus did not regard his hands as too holy to do this menial service. The true Christian does not allow his rank in society to keep him from acts of lowly service.

1. Steps in this service: (1) He rose from supper; (2) laid aside his garments; (3) took a towel and girded himself; (4) poured water into a basin; (5) washed his disciples' feet; (6) wiped them with a towel where- by he was girded. These steps symbolize Christ's entire work of redemption. His rising from supper represents his rising from his place of enjoyment in the heavenly glory; his laying aside his garments, his putting aside his vesture of majesty (Phil. 2:7, 8); his girding himself, his taking the form of a servant (Phil. 2:7); the water in the basin, his cleansing blood; his washing of their feet, his actual cleansing of men through his Word (John 15:3; Eph. 5:26); his taking his garments again, his return to his place and position of glory.

2. Peter's impetuous ignorance. He goes from extreme to another. It was his failure to understand the significance of this service that caused him to behave so strangely.

3. The significance of this service to those who participate in it. (1) It is a spiritual cleansing (v. 8). Fellowship with Jesus is only possible as we are continually cleansed from our sins. "He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit" (v. 10). The cleansing here is not the washing of regeneration, but that of sanctification. Even regenerate folks need the continual cleansing of Christ's blood in order to have fellowship with him. He that is regenerated—washed in the blood of Christ, symbolized by baptism—does not need a repetition of the act; he only needs the cleansing of sanctification, symbolized by the washing of the feet. As we go through this world after regeneration we are contaminated by its sins. He is willing always to cleanse us of our sins if we allow him. (2) A badge of brotherly affection. This act showed his abandonment to the service of his own. This is a lesson that is much needed today. We need more and more the fullness of brotherly love. This love needs to be manifested always to cleanse us of our realized. True love can only be proved by the service it renders. (3) A proof of humility. This is a lesson much needed by us all. The disciples had just been disputing as to who should be the greatest in the kingdom; their selfish ambition was expressing itself. Today, on every hand, we see expressions of pride, vanity, and even arrogance on the part of those who are professed followers of the lowly Jesus. If the Son of God was not ashamed to stoop to lowly service his disciples should not regard it beneath their dignity to follow in his steps. (4) Equalization. As they would not stoop to serve each other in the name of Christ there would be sure destruction of caste among them. The Spirit of Christ in this service is the great leveler of humanity.

III. An Example for Us (vv. 12-16).

The disciples of the Lord are under obligation to do unto each other as he did unto them. This obligation rests upon his Lordship (v. 14). All who call him Lord in sincerity will obey him. To refuse to obey him is to put one's self above his Lord.

Chinese Masons in Victoria.
A sea lion, a fishwife of croakers, a banquet, and the raising of the Chinese flag, indicated to the Victorian town of Echuca that a branch of the Chinese Masonic Society had been formed. Chinese from all parts of Victoria attended the ceremony, and the mayor and councillors of Echuca were guests. The Chinese master of ceremonies was interrupted by returned soldiers who objected to the flying of the Chinese flag alone. Australian and British flags were at once hoisted to the top of the flagpole.

Plenty of Yellow Sugar Available

Trade Commission Says People
Ought to Be Content With Brand

On account of complaints regarding the sugar shortage, the Canadian Trade Commission telegraphed thirteen representative boards of trade and wholesale grocers' associations of Canada, stating that yellow sugar was available for immediate delivery. The replies have shown no evidence of a sugar famine, but some objection was made to the proportion of yellow sugar offered. It would appear that the problem is one of high living rather than high cost of living.

The Canadian trade commissioners are convinced that the clamor for more sugar is due largely to people insisting on getting all white sugar to the practical exclusion of yellow.

Smelter Company Contemplates Installing a New Concentrator at Rossland, B.C.

A report from Victoria says that the Consolidated Mining and Smelter Company contemplates installing a new concentrator at Rossland, British Columbia, which will cover an area of about an acre and involve an outlay of at least $1,000,000. The buildings probably will be of steel, with steel and glass windows, granite walls and concrete floors. The capacity of the mill will be 1,500 tons a day. It will be designed to treat the ores of the Rossland camp by a process that has been tested for some months at the test concentrator at Trail, British Columbia. The question of the site of the mill is said to be unsettled, but Rossland will probably be the first choice.

Seventy Mammals Were Secured By a Single Vessel

With the arrival in Victoria recently of three whaling ships, the season has come to a close after a most successful period of fishing. The leading boat secured seventy mammals, which is considered a good record. There was an unusually large number of sperm whales caught, averaging about thirty feet each, as against the sixty feet full grown whale. Many sulphurs were also shot, running eighty-six feet. One mammal measuring forty-four feet in girth yielded 162 barrels of oil.

Sounding Oceans' Depths

Sounding, or determining the depth of the ocean, is now being accomplished by means of an echo. The instrument used is being installed on the steamship Governor, a vessel just returned by the government to its private owners, and now in coastwise trade between San Diego and Seattle, Washington. The device records the depth of the ocean from a fraction of one fathom to 5,000 fathoms, and will record four soundings a minute.

The New York Herald on Sunday, November 23rd published in its magazine section an article on: "Old Hudson Bay and the New Manitoba District."

This article presents the general physical features of Hudson Bay, its resources and its historic importance, taking up the story of the Hudson's Bay Trading Company; and its new importance with the approaching completion of the railway line from The Pas, on the Saskatchewan River in Manitoba, to Port Nelson, 424 miles away on Hudson Bay, by which wheat will be shipped direct from the western Canadian fields via Hudson Bay to Europe.

It also tells of the opening up of rich new mineral fields around the head of Lake Winnipeg, which were discovered with the making of the railway surveys just as the discovery of the great Cobalt district resulted from the survey of what was once intended a new grain carrying line—now the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad. Next spring will see a great rush of prospectors into the New Manitoba District and a general development of the lands along the Nelson River and the railroad now under construction.

Canada's Agricultural Position.

The Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Canada's new Minister of Agriculture, has summed up the outstanding facts of Canada's agricultural position in an article appearing in the November number of the Agricultural Gazette. He presents statistics showing the growth of Canada's financial burden during the past five years and points out means by which our national debt will be reduced. He says in part "I am confident that this Dominion, through the development of her natural resources, will in time wipe out our debt. Forests, fisheries, and mines all contribute their part of the revenue but by far the greatest return will be derived from agriculture, which industry we must continue to develop in our money and business in imagination. One of the greatest responsibilities that fall upon either the federal or provincial departments of agriculture is the conservation of the great wealth that lies in the virgin soil. Immense considerations are involved in this one problem, but the whole matter can be accomplished if we engage in mixed farming with live stock as a basis. This is the fundamental principle underlying success in agriculture."

A New Hullless Oat.

(EXPERIMENTAL FARMER'S NOTE)

The introduction of a good, new variety of hullless oats by the Experimental Farms branch has not perhaps attracted as much attention as it should. Free samples of this variety are now being distributed by the Dominion Cerealists at Ottawa. The stock on hand is not large, but as long as it lasts samples will be gladly sent to farmers in almost any district of Canada, as it is believed that this oat will be widely useful. The full name of the variety is Liberty, Ottawa 480. It is derived from a cross made in 1903 between the well known variety, Swedish Select, and a hullless oat from China. The new variety is decidedly superior to the old Chinese sort. Threshing out free from hull, this type of oat furnishes a concentrated product of extremely high value which has only to be ground in order to make most excellent feed especially for young pigs and chickens. When carefully enough cleaned for use as human food, it makes meal of surprisingly fine quality. The Liberty oat has very good field characters, being rather early in ripening and having reasonably stiff straw. The yield (so far as kernel is concerned) is equal to about seven-eighths of that of Banner oats. Farmers who are interested in the raising of hogs and chickens are strongly advised to give this new oat a trial. It has already proven extremely satisfactory in some districts.

BUILDINGS

TO GET THE LEAST WALL AREA—TO SAVE BUILDING MATERIAL—TO SAVE IN COST OF CONSTRUCTION—TO REDUCE HEAT LOST THRU WALLS

Are all considerations of Economy

Sometimes too little money is invested in farm buildings, in which case undue labor is required in taking care of the stock. Work is often done at a great disadvantage, to save a few dollars when the buildings are being constructed.

Plank Frame Barns—using nothing heavier than 2 inch plank—cost less to build and are becoming very popular. The principal reasons for this are, that his method saves in cost of lumber and provides for more storage room in the hay loft.

These Tours Are Very Interesting

North Pacific Coast and California resorts are becoming more popular each year with residents of Western Canada who seek a haven for two or three months during the extreme weather the prairie country inherits because of its geographical situation. There are also those who have leisure to make the trip for a shorter period to indulge in the pastimes afforded, or bask in the sunshine of these "sunny climes" this season.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and Steamship lines have formulated a series of tours at fares we submit are attractive. By this route you enjoy the finest scenery of the Canadian Rockies and a 700-mile ocean voyage thru protected waters of the famous "Inside Channel", a water trip that is got excellent for scenic beauty in America. The steamships are the finest and fastest in the North Pacific regular trade—all outside staterooms, hot and cold running water in each room, electric lighted throughout, and are completely equipped with a modern wireless telegraph system. Meals and berth are included without extra charge while on board ship from Prince Rupert to Vancouver, Victoria or Seattle.

If you are contemplating a trip, we will be pleased to arrange a complete itinerary that will interest you, at attractive fares. Apply to any Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, or write to Mr. W. E. Duperow, General Passenger Agent, Winnipeg.

The Need For National Economy

With the successful flotation of the Victory Loan 1919,—the enormous sum of $673,200,000 having been subscribed,—the people of Canada have made provision for their great financial indebtedness occasioned by the war. When the Great War broke out with such startling suddenness in 1914, Canada pledged its last man and last dollar, if necessary, to uphold the cause of justice and liberty and to secure the triumph of those principles in which they believed, and which they regarded as alone making life worth living.

The Canadian people have kept faith. Their soldiers bore the brunt of battle right up to the last minute of the fighting; the Canadian Corps constituting the storm troops, the spearhead of the great allied advance from Amiens and on through Cambrai and Mons to victory. Those who remained at home served by work, self-denial and saving, and they have poured out their money in large amounts and small in order to enable the government to pay the country's bills and liquidate the indebtedness it had contracted. Canada still owes the money, but it owes it to its own people who have loaned it to their country.

Canadians have done well and have no reason to belittle their own efforts or to be ashamed of the results achieved by them. They have done all, and more, than was asked of them, even by their own government. Many reasons might have been advanced why the people of the Dominion should hesitate, but they cast it all aside in the broad national interest. The Victory Loan 1919 was a vote of confidence, not in any government or administration, but in Canada—a demonstration by the people of Canada of a supreme confidence in themselves and their Dominion.

Now that the means have been provided for a "cleaning up" of the financial slate, and the restoration of the country to a more normal basis, it becomes the imperative duty of the Federal Government to institute the strictest economy in all national administration, and by the introduction of reforms, place Canada on the highway to marked future development and increased prosperity, happiness and contentment for all its people.

There is nothing to be gained in seeking to disguise the fact that there has been gross extravagance at Ottawa during the past five years. No doubt some of this was inevitable during the war, and Canada was not the only country to make such mistakes. But it cannot go on. It must be checked forthwith, and a return to financial sanity in Federal affairs established. Canada's expenditure at present far exceeds the revenue. This condition cannot be tolerated much longer. The two must be made to balance. This can only be done in one of two ways, or rather by a combination of both. First and foremost, our national expenditures must be reduced to the lowest possible point consistent with efficient administration. There is room for the cutting off of millions of expenditure, the stoppage of leaks, and the careful husbanding of the country's finances. If this cannot be carried to the point where the expenditure is reduced to present income, then the income of the country must be increased. This, of course, means an increase of taxation, and this the people must bear.

The second duty of the Federal Government, therefore, is to waste no more time in evolving a scientific scheme for raising the revenues required to cover our national expenditures. This will involve the most careful consideration, in order that no injustice be done to any class or section of the country, in order that those who are best able to carry the burden shall take the heavy end of it and those least able get off more lightly; and finally, that the fiscal and taxation policies be so drafted as to promote the maximum development of the natural resources of the country by which alone can employment be provided for all the people and our national wealth and prosperity be increased.

Our present haphazard system of Federal financing must be scrapped, existing injustices and inequalities in taxation removed, and a general re-orientation of the government brought about, and this must be done without further delay if disaster is to be avoided and the confidence of the people not seriously undermined, and unrest become more widespread.

The Canadian people, too, as individuals, must realize that our greatest national need today is a universal adoption of the principle of increased production coupled with greater economy in living. For a time at least luxuries must be reduced to a minimum and extravagant indulgences of all kinds stopped. Having made the world safe for democracy, we must now set ourselves to the task of making democracy safe in the world, and this can only be done by the people as a whole getting back to first principles in conduct, in living, and in productive work.

The longest single patrol in the Yukon Territory is from Dawson to Fort McPherson, near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, a distance of 1,000 miles. The patrol last year made the journey in 57 days.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, coughs and croup. Baby's Own Tablets keep the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Only the uninformed endure the agony of corns. The knowing ones get rid of them.

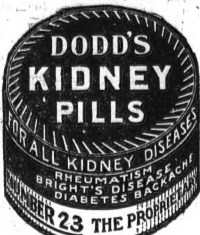

To Increase Egg Production. One hundred real "egg layers" on each of the 750,000 farms in Canada is the slogan adopted by a poultry club just formed in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Allowing a net profit of a dollar per hen, this would mean an annual revenue of $75,000,000. An elaborate campaign to further this project will be waged.

One Argument For More Salary

An Unfortunate Junior Teacher Who Lingered Long in the Service at a Miserable Salary

Victoria's feminine school teachers are sharing in the general increase of salary rendered necessary by the rise in the cost of living. There are some, however, who believe that much was accomplished by one who described herself as "an unfortunate junior teacher who has lingered long in the service at a miserable salary." This teacher illustrated the deplorable condition of her wardrobe by sending a tattered specimen in a neat brown paper bag, to the Director of Education, who forwarded the note and the garment to the Minister of Education, the latter presenting it to the Premier. The note was placed on an official file, the garment was placed in an unofficial basket, and the cause of junior teachers was greatly advanced.—Christian Science Monitor.

A hawk can spy a lark upon earth almost exactly the same color at 20 times the distance at which it is perceptible to a man or dog. A kite soaring out of human sight can still distinguish and pounce upon lizards and field mice on the ground, and the distance from which vultures and eagles can spy their prey is almost incredible.

This a Marvellous Thing. —When the cures effected by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvellous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six ingredients which enter into its composition. A trial will convince the most skeptical of its healing virtues.

One Way to Silence Wives. Nine American soldiers have married at Archangel who do not understand a word of Russian. Their wives do not know one word of English. This situation is paralleled by a singular custom in certain islands of the Caribbean Sea. There the men speak a different language from that of the women. In Papua the husband's language is quite different from that used by their wives, and missionaries find it impossible to create a common text book for the family use. The husbands do not encourage any familiarity with their tongue, apparently finding the present arrangement too advantageous.

Big Lumber Deal Closed

What is probably the biggest deal in the history of the lumber business of Manitoba has just been negotiated at Winnipeg. Three hundred and twenty-four miles of timber, lying in the Pas district, in Northern Manitoba, have been disposed of for $1,500,000 to C. J. and D. N. Winton, of Minneapolis, by the Finger Lumber Company. The deal, which includes a large sawmill, planing plants, and logging equipments, becomes effective at once and possession will be taken within a month. H. Finger, head of the retreating company, is a pioneer in the north country, going to the Pas in 1904, when it was Indian territory. The capacity of the company is about 190,000 feet per day.

Germany's Pre-War Debt to Lacemakers

Nottingham Commerce Chambers Urge Government Action

Nottingham lace merchants are exercised about pre-war debts owing to them by Germans. At a meeting of their chamber of commerce they decided to press on the government the urgency of recovering such debts. It is computed that the amount of these debts exceeds $2,500,000. A great part of the finishing and bleaching trade in Nottingham before the war was executed for firms in Flauen, whose withholding of payment has crippled severely some of the Nottingham houses. One local firm has more than $450,000 owing to it in Germany.

Marble Bust Of Prince

Model Completed and Will Adorn Parliament Buildings at Ottawa

To commemorate the placing of the corner stone in the tower by the Prince of Wales, and as a small token of the country's appreciation of the royal visit, a marble bust and pedestal of the Prince will be erected in the new parliament buildings. The model, already completed out of white clay, having a Gothic pedestal in harmony with the building, was exhibited in the hall of the Commons recently and was greatly admired. The Prince is shown dressed in military costume, and though dignified, is tinged with a slight smile which twists his whole face.

Sleeplessness. — Sleep is the great restorer and to be deprived of it is vital loss. Whatever may be the cause of its indigestion, nervous derangement or mental worry, try a course of Putnam's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the action of the stomach, where the trouble lies, they will restore normal conditions, and healthy sleep will follow. They exert a sedative force upon the nerves and where there is unrest they bring rest.

Alberta Stockmen

To Be Well Represented at International Livestock Show at Chicago

Alberta is to be well represented at the International Livestock Show, to be held at Chicago in 1920. The Department of Animal Husbandry of the Alberta University has undertaken to select a number of fat steers bred and fed in Alberta. The animals for exhibition will be furnished from three leading beef breeds of Alberta, Herefords, Aberdeen Angus and Shorthorns, and several fine animals have been offered by stockmen of the province. These are to be available for demonstration purposes at the university during the season 1919-20, before being sent to the exhibition. Alberta stockmen are confident that they will make a good showing at the international.

Ashes of Flags Reach Paris

The ashes of the 70 flags captured by the Germans in 1870 and burned in Berlin last July in defiance of the terms of the peace treaty, have arrived in Paris at the French Army Museum, accompanied by an officer and some soldiers.

Statistics can be made to show anything that the man behind the figures wants him to be.

Alleged Letter Of Admiral Von Ruetter

A Truly German Excuse to Cover Hunnish Trick

A letter alleged to have been written by Admiral von Ruetter to Mr. Lloyd George, protesting against the detention of the admiral who commanded the German fleet at Scapa Flow when it was scuttled, and other officers of the sunken fleet, is published in the "Tagliche Rundschau." Regarding the scuttling of the warships, Admiral von Ruetter is quoted as saying:

"I was obliged to assume that war had again broken out, from the announcement in the British press regarding the rejection of the German counter-proposals to the Peace Treaty. Even if my idea that war had again broken out, subsequently proved erroneous, nevertheless I acted in the conviction that it was war, and I and my subordinates, therefore, cannot be treated except in accordance with the usual customs of war."

Jimmy's Escape. "Jimmy," said the fond mother to her smart nine-year-old, "what became of that fruit cake I made for you as a treat yesterday? Did you eat it?"

"No, mama," answered Jimmy with a grin. "I gave it to the teacher instead."

"That was very generous of you, Jimmy," complimented his mother. "And did your teacher eat it?"

"Yes, I think so," answered Jimmy. "She wasn't at school today."

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

Skimmed Milk Wasted. Two hundred thousand pounds of skimmed milk are being wasted yearly in one dairy alone, according to the statement by a Saskatoon milk dealer, who declared his company could secure no market for it, and was forced to dump it into the sewers. The board discussed the possibility of establishing a cheese plant in order to use waste milk.

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds.

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent pills?

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the constipated waste matter, and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience, and Cascarets cost so little, too.

Great Hopes of Finding Oil

In reply to a newspaper representative at Edmonton, C. O. Stillman, of the Imperial Oil Company, stated that they have great hopes of developing a Canadian supply of oil in Northern Alberta before very long. Geologists of the company have been working in the territory during the past summer, and from results already obtained they feel quite sure that their work will be productive. Mr. Stillman and other high officials of the company have been going over the work that has been accomplished and considering plans for next year's investigations.

"Profiteers Of Labor and Capital"

Six Hours Labor Not Enough to Feed and Clothe the World.

A convention of farmers was held in one of the southern states a few days ago, when a resolution was passed to the effect that six hours labor daily on the farm or in urban industry were not enough to feed and clothe the world.

One farmer bluntly stated that the "profiteers of labor" and the "profiteers of capital" seemed to be in combination to make the real workers of the country pay outrageous prices for the necessities of life. "Suppose," he added, "the farmer, who works from seven to noon, and from one to six, with other hours thrown in before breakfast and after supper, flatly refused to work more than six hours a day, where would these six-hour-a-day fellows get off at?"

Quite so. If the production of food, wool, cotton, hides and such factors in life were curtailed, the whole standard of human existence would be lowered just so many degrees towards medievalism and barbarism. From the Ottawa Journal.

U.S. Senate's Action Puzzle to Britain

London.—Nearly all British public men are silent concerning the United States senate's dealings with the peace treaty. The reason for this is that they understand United States citizens regard the question as United States domestic political affair and fear that any expression from them might give offence, and be taken as attempts to influence United States politics.

Lord Robert Cecil and Lieut.-Gen. Jan Christian Smuts were the British sponsors for the League of Nations and are largely responsible for the details thereof, and both have registered their disappointment at the latest turn of events. Gen. Smuts in his appeal to the United States and Lord Robert Cecil in a brief speech in the House of Commons.

Lord Robert stands on that speech and refers all questioners to it as being all he has to say on the subject for the present.

It would be impossible to try to summarize public opinion. The first view reflected by the newspapers was that the United States had gone back on her agreement. Later advice from Washington, however, softened this feeling.

United States affairs generally, the relations between the senate and the President, and the question of the two-thirds majority and how a concurrent resolution might bring peace with Germany, are puzzling to the average man.

Johnson's Condition Is Improved
London.—The condition of William Johnson, the American anti-saloon organizer, is greatly improved. Johnson suffered a severe injury of the eye recently in an attack on him by medical students and others during the course of a debate on prohibition, in which he was engaged.

Explain Delay in Wheat Shipments

Winnipeg.—Following the announcement of Jas. Stewart, chairman of the Wheat Export Board, that failure to move grain, wheat in normal volume was due to failure of the railways to supply cars, the administrative sub-committee of the Canadian Railway Association has issued this statement:

"Referring to the statement made to the press by James Stewart, chairman of the Canadian Wheat Board, respecting the movement of wheat to the head of the lakes; in arriving at his conclusion and in comparing this year's movement with the record one of 1915, Mr. Stewart has conveniently overlooked a number of important factors.

"First—That while the crop matured earlier than usual this year, threshing was delayed over a large portion of the West and marketing was unusually light until freeze-up came.

"Second—That winter struck the prairies at least a month earlier than usual, with the inevitable result that transportation was slowed up.

"Third—That as a result of the prolonged western coal strike the railways were called on to move more commercial coal during the present

U. S. Will Not Attend

Labor Meeting

Canadian Labor Delegates Say That It Should Make No Difference

Washington.—Rejection of the peace treaty by the United States was widely discussed among delegates to the international labor conference. There is general regret that the United States will not, as a result of the senate's action, be a signatory of the conventions adopted by the conference. At the same time there is a general feeling that the labor branch of the League of Nations should go ahead with its work irrespective of what the United States may do.

Canadian employers have already expressed the view that Canada should not attend to labor conditions to which the United States is not prepared to assent.

Canadian labor takes an entirely contrary view. Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, holds that steps taken by the United States should not hinder the adoption of progressive legislation by Canada, "even though the United States decides for the time being not to become a member of the League of Nations."

Mr. Moore said: "I am of the opinion that the United States will eventually be forced by economic conditions to adopt progressive measures similar in the provisions to those decided upon by the labor conference."

Australia Suffers

From Severe Drought

Stock and Crops Have Been Destroyed and Thousands of Settlers Ruined

London.—Australia, especially New South Wales, is suffering the most devastating drought since white men have resided in that country, even the drought of 1902 being surpassed, according to a Sydney dispatch to the Daily Mail.

Stocks and crops have been destroyed, and it is doubtful whether there will be enough seed wheat for next season's sowing. Hundreds, and perhaps thousands of settlers have been ruined. Northwestern New South Wales is described as a desert being stripped of everything green. Paddocks are littered with the skeletons of cattle, and even rabbits are dying in vast numbers.

To Investigate Shipbuilding

Victoria.—For the purpose of sizing up the shipbuilding situation in the United Kingdom and possibly to place an order with one of the Old Country firms for the construction of a new steel passenger ship for the British Columbia coastwise passenger trade, Capt. J. W. Troupe, manager of the British Columbia coastwise steamship service, after conferring with the company officials in Montreal, will take passage to England.

Great Britain Removes Whiskey Restrictions

Release of 115,000,000 Gallons Announced in House of Commons

London.—One hundred and fifteen million gallons of whiskey, besides other quantities of spirits in bond in Great Britain, were released from war-time restrictions, and may be distributed to all-comers who can persuade the dealers to sell.

The announcement of the removal of the restrictions, which was made without warning in the House of Commons by the Food Controller, came as a surprise to the members, who greeted it with loud cheers.

The liquor trade was equally surprised and was besieged by the well-to-do among the public as soon as the unusual news spread. Many orders of from fifty to a hundred dozen were placed immediately, in addition to numerous commissions for smaller quantities. Although it is figured that enough spirits has been thus freed to supply every man, woman and child in the country with thirty-six bottles apiece, it is doubtful if the public will find it easy at present to increase consumption to a great extent. The government maintains control of the maximum price, which for whiskey is ten shillings and sixpence per bottle, and it is not believed that the dealers will sell much below that figure, as the existing high duty will remain.

Moreover, restrictions on distillation during the war and the necessity of maturing stocks may lead the dealers to hold large quantities. On the other hand, it will be possible to sell all the American whiskey which has reached and is still reaching England, though clearance from the customs may be slow.

Planned Assassinations

Fatal Presents Were Intended for U.S. Government Officials

Philadelphia.—Discovery of the "red" plot to slay officials with explosive Christmas mail packages was announced by Superintendent of Police James Robinson.

Information of the plot, which he considered reliable, indicates it is nationwide and directed against federal, state and city authorities who took part in the national roundup of radicals planning overthrow of the government. Immediate steps were taken to prepare federal investigators, postal authorities and police action against the "mail terror" which is scheduled to begin operation shortly before and during the Christmas holidays.

Evidence of the existence of a plot to send bombs through the mails under burials and holly was reported to Supt. Robinson by Andrew Emmanuel, head of the bomb squad who said he unearthed it during his investigation of radical activities here. The information was checked and verified according to Emmanuel. The source of information was carefully withheld by the police. It is believed to have originated from an "anarchist squad" who was afraid of the consequences of the plot.

Complains of Vaccination

Toronto.—The Toronto board of health, civic department of public health in connection with forced vaccination in the schools were made at a meeting of the board of control, and will be thoroughly investigated. Parents told the board that their children were compelled to submit to vaccination, despite the fact that they sent letters to the school demanding that this be not done.

Attempt to Kill Admiral Kolchak

New Contract Signed by Railwaymen

Is Practically the Same as Obtains on U.S. Roads

Winnipeg.—The general committee of the brotherhoods of railway trainmen and the order of railway conductors have signed a new agreement with the C.P.R., which carries an increase in wages for most of the men in train and yard service and makes a few changes in the rules governing working conditions of yard men, switch tenders now being included in the employees legislated for.

The contract signed is virtually the same as obtains on United States roads, but the greater portion of the increase in wages has been paid by the company since last summer, the men having had an interim agreement to that effect.

Von Hindenburg Explains

Says Defensive Strength of Germany Was Unfavorable From the Start

Berlin.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg declared before the sub-committee of the national assembly investigating war responsibilities:

"I know with absolute certainty that neither the people, the Kaiser, nor the government desired war, for the government knew better than others Germany's tremendously difficult position in a war against the entente."

Germany's defensive strength, said the field marshal, was as unfavorable as possible from the start. It might be left to history to decide why Germany's peace policy had failed.

"If the military authorities prepared for the possibility of an unavoidable war," continued Von Hindenburg, "that was only their duty towards the nation. If there had been solid, united co-operation between the army and homeland, we could have attained victory."

"While with the enemy, notwithstanding his superiority, all parties were united everywhere firmly in the determination to be victorious, with us, although we were unmercifully inferior, interests at home made their influence felt and this state of affairs led to the breaking of the will to victory."

In all great decisions, Ludendorff and himself were of one mind, and had worked in full accord from August 29, 1916, to the end.

"We considered unrestricted submarine warfare imperative immediately we entered the supreme command," said the field marshal. "When 1917 came we could no longer permit our gallant soldiers to be bombarded with American ammunition and their wives and children starved by the blockade. The U-boats were the only means to oppose these conditions."

To Put Treaty In Force at Once

Quebec Will

Discuss Prohibition

Only Two Important Measures Are Down for Hearing This Session

Quebec.—At the Quebec legislature, which opens December 10, only two really important measures are so far on the order book. The appropriation of five million dollars for colonization, and the revision of the code regarding legislation for large corporations.

It is expected, however, that there will be a debate and probably a proposed amendment on prohibition, but it is anticipated that the present regulation regarding the liquor tariff will remain in force at least a couple of years yet.

Sinn Feins May

Will Take Part in Discussion on Irish Government Bill

London.—There are strong rumors in the House of Commons lobbyists that the Sinn Fein members are contemplating taking their seats at Westminster, coincident with the cabinet's coming announcement of the Irish government bill.

It is reported also that Countess Makievicz will appear at the same time, in order to forestall Lady Astor as the first member of parliament, if Lady Astor is elected.

Pleaded Unwritten Law

John Lennox Is Acquitted on Charge of Attempted Murder

Winnipeg.—Rather an unusual event came to a charge of attempted murder in the assize court here.

John Lennox, a farmer near Stonewall, Man., and a former member of the R.N.W.M.P., faced the court on an allegation of shooting with intent to kill his hired man, H. J. Ward. Lennox told his story of the connections of the hired man with his wife so appealingly, and pleaded the unwritten law so well, that he was found not guilty. Judge Galt told them he was glad they had returned this verdict and discharged the twelve, who went into the jail and shook hands with the accused and warmly sympathized with him, saying they were glad to have the opportunity of being able to set him free without a stain on his character.

Bolshevik Active in Turkestan

London.—The British authorities have received disturbing reports of Bolshevik activities in Turkestan and Afghanistan. Tashkent, capital of the general government of Russian Turkestan, is the centre for classes of instruction, where Bolshevik emissaries are trained and taught various languages before undertaking missions farther east.

Paris.—The adjournment of the United States senate for the session without ratifying the peace treaty created much surprise in peace conference circles. The members of the council after adjournment withheld comment on the situation. In French circles, however, although there was disappointment over the senate's adjournment with the treaty situation still unsettled, no surprise was expressed, and it even seemed that the event had been expected. Apparently the situation had been discussed and measures taken in advance to meet the eventuality, as Foreign Minister Pichon, who presided over the Supreme Council at a recent session, urged that the Versailles treaty be put into force not later than December 1.

M. Pichon's view seems to have prevailed, the council expressing the opinion that it would be desirable to put the treaty into effect on December 1. In this connection it may be noted that the French Foreign Office was not aware of the probability that the American senate would not meet again before the first week in December.

Riots in Cairo

Egyptian Flags Carried and Cries Raised of "Down With Milner"

Cairo.—Students carrying Egyptian flags and shouting "Down With Milner," began the rioting here. Roughs joined with them and got the upper hand of the native police. The infantry was compelled to fire on the mobs storming the police stations, further infuriating the rioters.

The British troops finally restored order, driving off the demonstrators, who were armed with rifles and sticks.

The city is heavily patrolled. The rioting was in five different localities. The object of the mobs in storming the police stations was to release demonstrators who had been arrested. They were successful in freeing several such prisoners.

The number of minor casualties cannot be estimated with any approach to accuracy, because many of the slightly wounded were carried to their own homes. The Egyptian infantry fired into the crowds at two places where rioting was going on, killing two persons and wounding several others. No Europeans were injured, although the rioters entered several European houses and accused the inmates of firing on the crowd. The European community generally went about its business as usual.

Canada to Have Own Fur Sales

Winnipeg.—Canadians have expressed the opinion that this country ought to have a fur sale of its own. It is proposed to hold regular meets in Montreal, where many thousands of pelts will be offered. A charter for this purpose has been obtained, and the first auction will probably be held in Montreal early in 1920.

JARROW

Jas. Madden from Bigger is in Jarrow again buying cattle. He seems to be able to buy the stuff with satisfaction to everyone concerned.

The present cold snap has upset the plans of many to feed the coming winter. We all hoped we were to enjoy a spell of mild weather but it seems we knew nothing about it as usual.

Several autos have been seen around town until the last cold snap and several tackled the trip to Edmonton.

A.D. Schaffner is hauling two cars of baled hay home from Jarrow. His sons put up this hay at Westlock, North of Edmonton.

C. Pfeifer is home again after putting his ranch in shape for the winter up North of Lamont. He reports plenty of feed and water where he is located.

Mr. Mason, the genial operator of the U.G.G. elevator here, has resigned his position with that company and is going to Edmonton for the winter.

The Alberta Pacific will be open all winter from present prospects.

Mrs. Manners has resigned the position of teacher for Jarrow school and the position is now filled by a gentleman teacher.

Don't forget the next meeting of the local U.F.A. on Saturday November 29th.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Vic and Art Day, gathered at their home, the former Dickson place which they have recently purchased, Friday evening November 14th. It was in the nature of a surprise and the boys were very much unaware of the coming of the visitors who took possession and soon had everybody enjoying a social time in singing, dancing and music. Mrs. Emmerson and Miss Essig furnished excellent music at the piano. The ladies brought refreshments and a jolly spread was had before the party broke up. The Day Brothers returned from overseas this summer and decided to locate again in this district in the same neighborhood, and their former friends and neighbors planned this welcome for them.

The Salvation Army
And the Judge's Bench

Police Magistrate Macdonald, in a Personal Interview, Says
He Could Not Get Along Without the S. A.

Sir Hugh John Macdonald, city of Winnipeg police magistrate, when speaking recently regarding the work of the Salvation Army in the city, paid a high tribute to the organization. His testimony of its worth to the community rings out with no uncertain sound.

"I first," said Magistrate Macdonald, "came in touch with the Army in my home town of Kingston, Ont. In fact I remember it commencing its operations there and recollect how the first officer, who, by the way, was a lady, impressed me because of the influence she brought on the leading citizens. This officer, by her Christian character, did much to break down the prejudice which arose against the Army and its methods.

The Army and Police Work.

"I became more personally acquainted with the real work of the organization on coming west. Magistrate Day, my predecessor, an old college friend of mine, was one of its warmest supporters and it was through him that I became interested in its work. On taking over my duties as police magistrate I became more impressed and today, after eight years on the bench here at Winnipeg, I feel that without the aid of the Salvation Army it would be almost impossible for me to do my work at any rate in a way that brings best results. For instance, time and again I would have had no other alternative but to commit an offender, who in my judgment only needed a little guidance and help, to a term of imprisonment, were it not for the Salvation Army, who have always been on hand to take over the responsibility in the case of such as these."

"Can you recall any of the particular cases to which you refer, one for instance, where the party, by coming into contact with the Salvation Army, has not only been helped but reinstated in decent society, reformed, or better still, converted, regenerated?" was asked.

"A Woman Regenerated."

"Why, yes, as you speak the face of a young woman rises before me. I can see her standing before me charged with immorality and frequenting houses of ill-fame. To see her on the street or making purchases at a store it would be impossible to believe that one so innocent, fresh and young, had looked lived the life she did. Upon inquiry, I learned her parents were bad, fact-degraded. Brought up in such company and in such an environment, there seemed no alternative but for the child to go down, down to the lowest depths. I decided to give the young woman a good, fatherly talk and to release her on suspended sentence, and when doing so suggested that she see the matron of the Salvation Army Industrial Home for women, who would be pleased to counsel and help her in every way possible.

"Eventually, without any pressure from the matron or myself, the young woman decided to spend a term in the home. In one of the religious meetings which are regularly held with the inmates by the staff, she was converted and I will never forget her calling to see me at my office and telling me of her new experience. This young woman is now happily married. Both the matron and myself have kept in touch with her, and the last information we received was that she was still doing well.

"I was struck on another occasion by the absolutely hopeless look of a man in the dock who was charged with vagrancy. I found he was not what one would call a bad man, but one who had lost his self-respect, and let go his grip on life. I became convinced that if this man could only be persuaded to take a different view of life and its problems, he could be saved from himself. I asked the Salvation Army officer who is always on hand, whether he would see if anything could be done with the man. The officer gladly consented to see what could be done, took him home, arranged for him to have a good bath, fitted him out with clothing, secured him work, watched over him, sympathized and sometimes wisely rebuked him, and was ultimately rewarded in seeing his charges take their course, and today he is making good.

"These are just two I tell you I know no greater agency for good than the Salvation Army. This is my own opinion, and I speak as one who comes in personal touch with its work every day."

The Army's Good Work.

"Coming back to the work of the Salvation Army, I cannot find words to express my appreciation, and while it continues to do the kind of work it is doing it will always have my warmest and whole-hearted support."

The Coming Home Service Campaign is for funds to extend the operations of the army in police courts and prisons and all will be able to have a partnership in this splendid humanitarian work by assisting to make the campaign a success.

Bogus prescriptions are troubling the local police. Speaking strictly from hearsay, bogus liquor is causing a much wider field of worry and nothing is being done about it at all—Edmonton Journal.

Hospital Meetings.

Arthur K. Whiston, secretary of municipal hospitals, Edmonton will address public meetings as follows:

Viking, Monday, December 1st at 2.30 p.m.
Kinsella, Tuesday, December 2 at 2.30 p.m.
Jarrow, Wednesday, December 3rd at 2.30 p.m.
Bruce, Thursday, December 4th at 2.30 p.m.

The object of these meetings is to see whether or not the ratepayers wish a hospital district established, and an open discussion is invited. All questions cheerfully answered. Be there.

Bound for Europe.

As is customary at this season of the year, many people in Western Canada "Go over home" for the holiday season. For their convenience, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway have arranged to operate a through tourist sleeping car from Edmonton to Portland, Maine, leaving Edmonton at 9.00 a.m. December 1st, connecting with S.S. Megantic, which will leave Portland for Europe on Saturday, December 6th. This arrangement permits passengers to make the trip without change of cars and with a maximum of comfort. See nearest Grand Trunk Pacific agent for full information and reservations, or write W. E. Duperow, General Passenger Agent, Winnipeg.
